

Mathias M. Siems is Professor of Commercial Law at Durham University, UK. He is a graduate of the Universities of Munich (Germany) and Edinburgh (UK), and has held visiting research positions at the Centre for Business Research of the University of Cambridge (ESRC funded project on Law, Finance and Development), Harvard Law School (as a Fulbright Scholar), the European University Institute in Florence (as a Jean Monnet Fellow), St John's College Oxford, Fordham Law School in New York, UC Berkeley School of Law, Waseda University in Tokyo, the Chinese University of Hong Kong and Shanghai Jiao Tong University, and visiting teaching positions at the Central European University in Budapest and the Interdisciplinary Centre in Herzliya. For further information please see http://works.bepress.com/mathias_siems/ and <http://www.ssrn.com/author=367649>.